PRICE TWOPENCE

STUDENT BUSINESS

Newcomers to College have so many societies, clubs and ideas thrust upon them that it is not surprising that many of them either retire within a protective shell of shyness or take refuge in gay phylandering. The obvious conclusion which they quickly reach is that each club is being well supported. What they fail to notice is that only too frequently a small minority of their fellow students is doing the work of the whole Union. One very important result of this impression is that students rarely enter into the real atmosphere of what might be called the "spiritual" university, as contrasted with the "material" and purely academic, until their third year. This loss is serious and should have been remedied long ago. It is perfectly obvious that every student cannot sit on a committee, but there is at least one common society in which all should have an interest, The National Union of Students. Indeed for this body to function efficiently and to be helpful to both students and country alike, each student must take an active part.

The general aspects of N.U.S. have been put forward in this paper before, as well as at various meetings, but a few recent developments are everybody's business. By its work, the N.U.S. has at last been recognized by various boards and committees as a competent body to discuss and make suggestions concerning problems of interest not only to students but to the nation in general. Therefore when it is decided to discuss the question of employment of university graduates at the next Congress it behoves us to begin thinking about the problem well in advance. U.C.S. has been chosen as the venue for the Congress and this is an additional reason why each of us should take a personal interest in it. For the first time in the history of N.U.S. the Congress is being run on similar lines to the British Association, so that the three parallel schools of Education, Industry and Commerce, and Civil Service and Professions will all investigate the same problem. The subject is one which few of us can afford to ignore. There are perhaps a few of us who have little need to worry about the future, but for at least 90 per cent the question of our employment is very closely related to our future well-being. In addition if it is possible to set up Advisory and Appointments Boards in each College which will keep records of past students and a watchful eye on tendencies and changes in employment, the Congress will have justified itself for future students. Therefore it is not a matter for us alone—we must think of it as a responsibility.

We must now consider methods by which each of us can help the Congress. The shy people must come out of their shells and the phylanderers cease their gaiety. There are two aspects which each student is able to tackle. The first is a personal one. Answers to questions such as "Is your career decided before you come to College?", "Is it assured?" "Do you avail yourself of the Board of Education Grant in order to obtain a University training irrespective of your desire or capacity to become a teacher?", "What are the considerations which determine the choice of your career, e.g., special ability, family connections, absence of any other alternative?", are all vitally necessary and can only be answered by individuals. The other line of research in which present students can help is by their personal contacts with past students. Most of us know past students, some of whom are perhaps unemployed or misemployed. This is also the kind of knowledge which the Unemployment Committee recently set up in College, is trying to ascertain. If the information is readily forthcoming they can devote more time to correlation and analysis so that some constructive suggestions can be put forward at Congress.

Another side of N.U.S. which is changing in form is the national magazine, The New University. There should be little need to mention here that in the November issue, such questions as the lecture system, graduate unemployment and politics and the student were all briefly discussed. Once again it is necessary for students to support the N.U.S. so that the magazine can go forward to greater things. It is not sufficient to read the articles however; little purpose is served by this. To be of greatest use the articles should provoke discussion. We have heard much lately concerning the part played by Refectory as a suitable place for discussions and exchange of ideas, but it is very doubtful whether many students have taken the trouble to utilise the facilities at hand to this end. Once again it is a case of "missed opportunities." How many more decades will it take for students to realise the truth in the saying that the more one puts into a thing the more one gets out of it.

Let us then put aside once and for all the idea that we have no hand in Student Business. Our responsibilities do not cease immediately after elections; rather let us keep abreast of all current events and regard N.U.S. as Our Business, not shelving our responsibilities.

Editorial.

This, as many people will be glad to know, is the tenth and last issue of "Wessex News" this term. Looking back, however, it seems incredible that only ten leaders have had to be obtained, that only ten editorials have had to be written: surely there has been a mistake somewhere, or is ten a much bigger number than we had hitherto thought? Anyhow, here we are in the last week of term, and everybody is preparing for a good solid vac's work. Throughout the term "Wessex News" has been well supplied with news and letters by College. There have been plenty of critics too, but they seldom seem to do anything but talk, so we have not been able to profit by their ideas.

This last week of term seems the right time to thank publicly those who have given invaluable assistance to this paper by reading the proofs on Monday evenings, while the Editor was enjoying himself, hacking away at pieces of wood. So we thank W. M. Hutchings and J. M. Taylor very warmly for the time and energy they have given to "Wessex News," and must not forget the President, who also read the proofs once. At the same time we would be glad to see our readers not to put the blame for spelling mistakes on the devoted helpers whose names have just been disclosed.

As the season of peace and goodwill is approaching, will anybody who has been offended or displeased by anything written in Wessex News please forgive the writer thereof?

Last week-end ex-members of the Faculty of Engineering returned to Southampton from all parts of the country. Some attended the dance and danced, some attended the dance, and one at least did not attend the dance.

Why talk of work and lack of ability, when rehearsals occupy about an hour a week and when we demand enthusiasm and loyalty before talent? To those who can cruise round about "G" and perhaps rise to "A" (when weather permits) we extend an invitation to join our ranks and help to ensure the success of "H.M.S. Pinafore."

N.U.S. Film

How many times is the phrase "I wish I had gone" or "missed opportunities" used in connection with student life at College? Apparently only about 25 per cent. of us learn the lesson of making as much use of our time as we possibly can, for of a total membership of 350 in the Union only about 70 think it worth their while to see a film made by Hungarian students on the occasion of a great meeting of all nationalities in Buda-Pest. It was a very disappointing and disheartening response to a new venture. Or perhaps it is that students are not at all interested in either N.U.S. or the customs and scenery to be found in foreign countries. I sincerely trust that the latter is not true.

The film itself was very good indeed. We would not suggest that it reached the sophistication of Gaumont-British, but there were many features well worth seeing. Everybody was impressed by the excellent photography, especially by that part of the film which was in colour. The various shots of the sun setting over the Hungarian lake were very good purely from an aesthetic point of view, whilst the dead old fat lady provided a humorous touch.

Finally, on behalf of those students who were present, I would like to thank Dr. Berry for the kind loan of his projector and for being present to see that nothing went wrong.

Choral Society— an Appeal

Tenors of the Choral Society are outnumbered two to one by basses. It seems a pity that we should convert prospective "cousins and Aunts" into "British Tars"—especially when all other factors conspire to promise an excellent show. Surely those tenors whom I have heard warbling at Hall Entertainments and elsewhere cannot sit amongst an audience and enjoy themselves, when a number of feminine "tars" are striving to emulate tenors and pushed-up baritones whilst supporting a member of

Visit of N.U.S. Secretary

In a very interesting speech on Friday, Mr. Nunn May, Secretary of the N.U.S., explained the position and work of that body. He stated that the N.U.S. was formed primarily to represent students of this country in the International Confederation of Students founded in 1919 by the French Union of Students. Later, however, the national or domestic aspect was given more prominence, and the individual British student now benefits by the work of the N.U.S.

The very efficient travel and exchange schemes were then mentioned, and, in conclusion the scheme for an International Student Sanatorium at Leysin was explained.

This meeting should do much towards altering the opinion of the average student who regards the N.U.S. as a somewhat nebulous organisation consisting mainly of committees and officials.

We are very pleased to announce that our President has been appointed to the N.U.S. Congress Committee. In connection with this he spent last week-end in London. Plans for the Congress are already being made, and we hope to make further announcements next term.

A Franco-British Conference is to be held from Dec. 26th—31st at Fontainebleau, under the auspices of the International Student Service. The subject to be discussed is "The breakdown of the 1919 Peace Settlement and the construction of a new peace system." College will be represented by K. J. Newman, who is already well-known in connection with L.N.U.

Chess Club

The "A" team playing without three of its best men, did well to draw 3-3 with the Old Tauntonians on Saturday. It still keeps going when the others have stopped, and has to play Portsmouth away next Saturday.

WOMEN'S HOCKEY.

Splendid Victory.

1st XI v. Newport. Won 5-2.

From the start College attacked strongly, but it was not until after ten minutes that a good corner shot from the right gave them the lead. Newport however retaliated and throughout the whole of the first half the game was fast and even. The altered forward line combined well together and the whole team played up really well. The score at half time remained at 1-1, a just reflection of the game at this stage.

On resuming College were definitely the superior team, doing almost all the attacking. Four goals were added to the score and in reply Newport managed to break through once.

(We should like to thank those supporters who turned out on a rather unpleasant afternoon to cheer us on; they probably played a greater part in this victory than many imagine and we therefore hope that their support will be forthcoming on other occasions.)

NETBALL.

U.C.S. v. Winchester County School.

Won 29-17.

The last game of the term was one of the most enjoyable. College started off very badly, but, on realising that they were six down, the team "woke up" and played as vigorously and with as good combination as ever before. In spite of the goal-shooter's protestations that she wouldn't be able to shoot, she put up a splendid performance and it was to a great extent due to her accurate shooting that College was able to pull up and take the lead. The match could hardly have been called an exhibition of Netball as it should be played, but was a fast and exciting game, thoroughly enjoyed by both teams.

A.F.C. v. King Alfred's College.

On Saturday, College journeyed to Winchester to play the return game with King Alfred's. It was raining slightly when the game began and the home team were early aggressive. After about ten minutes they opened the scoring through their inside-left whose ground shot appeared to be going out of play but the ball turned into the foot of the post and went in. They quickly scored two more goals but one was probably from an off-side position. After this, College held their own and had as much of the play as the home team. Both teams combined cleverly but Winchester spoiled their play by petty fouling, most of which the referee failed to notice. The first half ended with no further scoring although College came near to reducing the lead on two or three occasions.

For some time in the second half play was even but the College could not really get going against the robust methods of the home team. Most of the College players seemed to be remembering the corresponding game of last season when four or five of the College team were hurt. After a period of attacking by Winchester the home team scored again. Once or twice the referee let the home team go on from off-side positions and two more goals resulted. A misunderstanding in the College defence enabled Winchester to score from a corner and still another goal came from a player in an off-side position. Just before the end College attacked and had hard luck when Eden hit the bar with the goalie beaten, but with almost the last kick of the match Eden scored the only goal for College. Winchester were undoubtedly a splendid side, fast, accurate in their passing, precise in their movements, and extremely well-together in both attack and defence. Apart from an undue vigour in their tackling, they were in this game as in the first of the season, the most competent side which the College has met for a very long time.

Results in University matches have however been disproportionately good. The Netball team annihilated Exeter, the Soccer team have beaten Reading, Kings and Goldsmiths, the Rugby team scored a great victory against Exeter, the Hockey team defeated Exeter and the Boat Club overwhelmed Queen Mary's. With fit teams and settled orders there will be further triumphs before the winter season ends. A pleasing feature has been the great number of students actively engaged in athletics, though it might be more fortunate were these more evenly distributed over the various clubs.

RUGGER.

1st XV v. Portsmouth "A" (Home).

On Saturday, Dec. 12th, the College played Portsmouth "A" and were beaten by 17 pts. to 3 pts. Wood was playing scrum half for College in place of Thomas who was moved to centre three quarter, a position in which he is much more thrushful. Portsmouth led by 11 pts. to nil at half time, 2 tries and 1 goal.

In the second half they scored two more unconverted tries, to which College replied with a try by Thomas, who kicked ahead and dribbled the ball over the line; the kick failed.

The game itself was not brilliant and was noticeably marked by the efforts of the opposing side to act as referee. This resulted in penalty kicks being given against them which did not alleviate their feelings. On the whole, it was a poor game and nothing more can be said.

CROSS COUNTRY.

U.C.S. 54, R.A.F. Andover 24.

In the match against R.A.F. Andover last Saturday, the C.C.C. were only able to turn out a depleted team (without Newton-Smith and Lawrence) and were rather heavily defeated. The course 5½ miles of flat, very heavy and very muddy country was not appreciated by College, and there were several shocking ejaculations made by various members of the Club as they ploughed with much labour through the mud.

At the start, four Andover men and Moore took the lead, but as soon as the muddy country began, the Andover men, who had an enormous advantage in wearing spikes, drew ahead, and although Burroughs who again ran a good race, considering the nature of the course, made a plucky effort to catch them, it was of no avail and for the first time this season, College had four opponents in before their first man. Burroughs ran in fifth, and Dukes gained seventh place, followed by Pearce ninth, Moore, Morris, Russell and Worswick.

Spikes were very necessary over this course, for it was impossible to keep a foothold and maintain a good speed in the mud. Next term the club is confident of turning the tables, in the return fixture at home.

THE WINTER TERM.

Although there has been much promise, there have been many disappointments during the term which is closing, not least among which has been the failure of the Soccer team to realise its undoubted possibilities. Injuries have contributed largely to these disappointments, and next term should see many successes for all teams. The most successful clubs have been Rugby and Cross Country, and their future should be very bright.

Debating Society

A rather pointless motion was debated in a rather pointless fashion in the Music Studio on Dec. 5th, namely, that the "Wessex News" is a better paper than the "Daily Worker." Quite appropriately, the motion was opened by Mr. Gravett and seconded by Mr. E. Eldridge and opposed by Mr. Pearce clutching a whole sheaf of "Daily Workers," seconded by Miss Betts. None of the speeches were outstandingly good although Mr. Gravett provoked some spontaneous laughter during his impassioned defence of his child. His main point was that the "Wessex News" is a natural growth, filling a definite need and putting facts in a more or less unbiased way; at any rate, that that was its policy. Mr. Pearce did not do himself justice in his reply, while Miss Betts' speech was so disjointed as to lose its point. Their main argument seemed to be directed against the "high pressure salesmanship" of "Wessex News." The debate was tolerably amusing and totally uninteresting, speeches from the floor being almost entirely flippant. It is a pity, however, that the front bench at Debates cannot refrain from exchanging pleasantries with the speakers, hindering the development of their ideas to a great extent.

The motion was won by 36 votes to 16.

Miss Betts found 3 flies in her rice on Friday and 2 more on Saturday.

We note with approval the change in colour of the cover of this term's "West Saxon."

On Thursday evening every member of the "select" Carol Party went home with another member.

Engineers' Dance

When the Engineers held their first Faculty Dance last year, it was generally agreed that a new standard of Coll. dances had been set up. The result of this was an almost overwhelming demand for tickets this year.

All told, the company numbered 310; this was too many for either Refectory or the Hall, but in spite of the crowd, the dance was a grand success.

The dance quickly got into its stride, the Carnival spirit being much in evidence as early as 7 o'clock (a record which we should like to see maintained!) The decoration, and more especially the lighting of the Hall was really good.

Divisions there were in plenty; we received showers of confetti down our necks from an apparently innocent roof; we watched with all due solemnity a procession consisting of a Professor and five Engineers (suitably armed) proceeding towards the bar; moreover we were nearly victimized by a dastardly attempt to ease the pressure on the floor with a very potent "machine-gun."

Finally we should like to congratulate and thank Mrs. Sly, who undertook all the decoration of Refec, in addition to the feeding of the multitude.

SCOUT TROOP

A successful start has been made with the College Scout Troop. At the first meeting 13 boys turned up—a number which we hope will not have its usual associations—and last Friday the attendance was doubled.

The G.S.M. is grateful to those energetic Rovers who have volunteered to help during the vacation.

Games Again

In view of the recent remarks about Games at this College, the following (official) figures are very interesting.

MEN.

Boat Club	53 members
Rugger Club	31 "
Soccer Club	39 "
Hockey Club	26 "
Cross-Country Club	17 "
Boxing Club	18 "

Total 184

Of this 184, however, 14 play more than one game, so there are 170 men playing games, and there are about 250 men here in all. It should be noted that some people play Summer games and not Winter, and the Swimming Club is not included here.

WOMEN.

60 women are members of clubs, and of these, 7 play two games, so we reach a figure of 53.

This excludes the Fencing Club, which is an indoor activity, and the Women's Boat Club, which is not incorporated in the Athletic Union.

Correspondence

To the Editor of Wessex News.

Dear Sir,

I am afraid that Miss "Onlooker" had put down facts which she herself was not very sure of. There is usually the tendency of giving unreasonable judgments by false news. The students concerned in the demonstrations DID NOT "block railways, burn offices, and beat officials in order to force their country into war with Japan!" Instead, they repaired railways which were purposely blocked by local authorities to stop their representatives from gaining an interview with certain government officials. They did not do the "beating," but were beaten by police officers. Moreover, there was no genuine proof whatever that the students did, or intended to, set on fire any government buildings.

The idealism put forth is perfectly sound. But the true aspect of the whole situation is much more complicated than its outlook. It is often a fruitless effort for the botanist, or the artist, and the like, to tackle a mathematical problem (by this I do not mean one like, How many twos make four). Furthermore it is impossible for one to make statements of any practical value while being comfortably seated in an easy armchair.

It may be agreed that a people shall not be completely subdued by sheer force no matter how great this force may be. The blowing-up of Nanjing is no longer a menace; we have seen the worst of non-resistance.

It might interest the readers to know that the New Life Movement is now in full swing, of which the students are sincere advocates.

Yours, etc.

Dear Sir,

I wish to bring to the notice of ALL members of the Church of England the formation of the Anglican Society in College. While there are already S.C.M. and C.U. in College, it has been felt that there should be a society which would afford opportunities for Anglicans to discuss and hear of matters directly concerning the Church of England.

Membership is open to all members of the Anglican Communion in College—that is, to all members of the Church of England or bodies in official communion with her. Here I would point out that the term Anglican does NOT mean Anglo-Catholic and this is NOT a society for any one particular section of the Church of England.

Any further information may be obtained from me or from any of the following: Mr. Burden, Mr. Pointer, Mr. Churchill, Mr. West, Miss Harrington, Miss Caswall.

Yours truly,

The Select Carol Party commenced its third season on Monday, Dec. 7th, with a visit to Abbots Way and Uplands Way. Despite an intensely cold evening there was a good turn-out and the singing was of quite a good standard, considering the lack of practice.

On Tuesday the party visited Winchester Road, Bassett Avenue and Burgess Road. Welcome hospitality was provided by Mr. Price of Little Oak Hall, and later by the Principal.

Orchards Way and Glebe Court were the areas for Wednesday evening, during which Miss Trout was called on.

Thursday evening at Chilworth was eminently successful in more senses than two. After a rather bad start at a house, whose inhabitants fortunately did not hear, the singing attained a very high standard. Mr. Casson invited the party indoors, and later in the evening Mrs. Burnett provided refreshments. The evening was brought to a glorious finish with a visit to Mr. and Mrs. George Grant and family, whose kind hospitality was greatly appreciated.

Westwood Road and Winn Road were visited on Friday. Carols were sung in Refectory on Saturday morning and seem to have been quite well appreciated. Sixteen volunteers were found for a visit to Winchester Prison on Sunday afternoon.

The second week commences with the Carol Service in St. Mary's, South Stoneham, and on Tuesday, the party will sing to the members of staff in Ethelbert Avenue. Wednesday, the last evening, will probably be spent in Northlands Road.
